The basis of the role is credit application file management including liaison with clients, introducers and lenders.

You will possess the following core attributes:

- Strong numeracy and communication skills
- The capacity to work autonomously and be highly organised
- As a minimum a broad fundamental understanding of banking and finance
- Flexibility in respect of day-to-day duties
- A strong problem solving and negotiation mind set
- Prior experience as a loans officer or in a finance broking support role would be highly regarded

Industry finance specialists with over 80 years combined experience.

We offer:

- A very pleasant, respectful and relaxed work environment with your own office
- A diverse and interesting client base
- Flexible hours within the confines of business demand
- Capacity to customise and expand the role to suit your skill set
- An attractive remuneration arrangement for the right applicant

We would encourage bankers, ex bankers, loan writers, mobile lenders, accounting support staff and practice managers to apply. The position is also open to applicants with a finance background who are returning to the workforce. Intending applicants and interested parties are encouraged to review our web site at www.mikehippsfinance.com.au.

If you feel you have the passion to do the job but don't have enough experience (or are finishing a degree) don't be deterred. We are happy to at least have a chat.

In the first instance please submit your CV and covering letter to christine@mikehippsfinance.com.au.

We encourage applicants to provide a covering letter specific to the role.
